

CALL FOR PAPERS

Dear contributors,

We are pleased to announce that the North African Journal of Food and Nutrition Research is actually accepting submissions to launch Volume 5, Issue 12 (July-December) of year 2021.

The journal welcomes manuscripts of high scientific quality that are relevant to human nutrition and food science. The journal does not charge any author submission fees. Upon submission to NAJFNR, manuscripts may not be submitted to another journal while under review, nor should they have been previously published.

All manuscripts are reviewed by a minimum of three (03) referees with expertise in research relevant to the manuscript topic. Results of the review and consideration for decision (acceptance, suggestions for revision, or fully justified rejection) by the editorial board, will be communicated rapidly to authors.

Review the complete Instructions for Authors page at <https://www.najfnr.org/instructions>.

HOW TO SUBMIT?

The North African Journal of Food and Nutrition Research receives all manuscript submissions electronically via the website. Seeking submission date December 30th, 2021. Please visit the webpage <https://www.najfnr.org/submission> to download necessary files.

Please feel free to contact the Editorial Office Assistants if you require additional information or further clarification.

With Kind Regards

Prof. Meghit Boumediene KHALED
Editor-in-Chief
